Henry M. Pollak (left) and Eugene Pastelak were the winners of scholarships to The Hill it was announced yesterday. Pollak, 16, is in the 11th grade at Pottstown Senior High school, while Pastelak, 14, was graduated from Ninth grade at the Junior High school. A two-year scholarship went to Pollak, and a three-year award to the younger boy.

2 Youths Win Scholarships For Hill School

The Hill school's traditional scholarships to students in the Pottstown public schools were announced yesterday.

They went to Henry M. Pollak, 16, of the 11th grade in the Senior High school, and to Eugene Pastelak, 14, of the Ninth grade in the Junior High school.

Pollak is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Pollak, of Linfield, while Pastelak is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Pastelak, of 418 Cherry street.

Both boys were chosen by a committee of The Hill and public school officials. They were chosen on a basis of scholastic achievements, extra-curricular activities, character, integrity and personality and upon the recommendation of their teachers.

Water Pump to Control Trash Fires To Be Installed at Borough Dump

The fires at the borough dump on Moser road which have caused numerous complaints from residents of the area will be controlled by the installation of a pressure pump to hose down the flames whenever they break out, George H. Dunn, contract garbage collector, announced yesterday.

Dunn revealed that he and Borough Manager Dow I. Sears have been working on the problem for the past six months. Their greatest difficulty was in locating a pump to be used for this purpose.

Two weeks ago, they found a pump with a 750-1000 gallon capacity, equivalent to a fire company pumper. Arrangements were made to acquire it yesterday.

Sears said the pump would be set up at the settling tanks at the borough disposal plant next to a constant source of water supply. A hose will be stretched directly from the pump to the dump so that fires may be extinguished as soon as they start.

THE FIRE DEPARTMENT will be asked to initiate the program by extinguishing all the dump fires when the pump finally is set up. After that, dump attendants will handle the problem themselves.

As a further improvement, it is planned to move the dump back behind a row of trees on its southern edge as soon as a road can be built into the area, Sears said. This will act as a camouflage measure in screening the unsightly dump from the view of passing motorists. The present section will be covered over with dirt and fill.

Dunn explained he had kept the fires fairly well under control during the winter by smothering them with ashes, but since home heating units are no longer used, most of the trash collected consists of paper and wet garbage which cannot be used for this purpose.

He said if it were not for the smoke, it would be best to allow the fires to burn. By consuming the garbage, they have reduced the number of odors emanating from the decomposing materials.

Area Coal Trucker Is Lone Survivor as Two Die in Crash

A Pottstown area coal trucker was the only man left alive after a violent three-truck crash yesterday morning killed the drivers of the other vehicles on Route 100, 15 miles west of Allentown.

Robert C. Pusch, of Manatwamy, walked away from the accident with only a skinned knee after his dump truck had crashed into the wreckage of the other two trucks, both trailer jobs, which met almost head-on.

Pusch said he was on his way from Mahanov City to Pennsburg to deliver eight and a half tons of coal to the coal yard of Henry Mest, dealer. He is an independent coal hauler.

As he approached a small bridge in a valley between Fogelsville and Pleasant Corner, an open-bed steel-bodied trailer truck driven by Charles Souders, 38, of Allentown, began passing him, he said.

At that point, Pusch explained, visibility down the road is only about 200 feet, being blocked by a rising right-hand curve through a cut in the hillside.

As Souders' truck drew even with him both drivers saw another truck bearing down in the opposite direction. Pusch, who said he was driving about 40 miles per hour, slammed on his brakes to allow the passing truck to squeeze ahead of him on the 18-foot wide highway.

IT DID NOT quite make it. The northbound truck, driven by Charles Messersmith, 39, of Allentown, crashed almost squarely into Souders' truck and Pusch piled into the wreckage.

"Everything went black for a minute and then I saw a great sheet of flame," said the Manatwamy trucker.

All three trucks caught fire instantly, he recounted, and by the time he had alighted were masses of flames. He saw that Souders was dead, he said, and could not get near Messersmith because of the fire.

Pusch said only a concrete railing on the bridge saved him from a 30-foot plunge into the stream.

MESSERSMITH'S TRUCK, the only unladen one, was swung around in the opposite direction by the impact of the collision.

A fire apparatus from Pleasant Corner extinguished the blaze shortly after the wreck. State troopers from the Trexlerstown barracks investigated.

The bodies were released to a funeral home in Allentown.

Messersmith was an independent driver. Souders was employed by the Dorney Coal company, Allentown. He was the father of six children.

Pusch's truck was insured. It was a total loss.

TRAFFIC PLANS PREPARED FOR COUNCIL ACTION

Charlotte Street Parking Ban, End of Left Turns At Two Corners Proposed

Parking will be banned on Charlotte street, between High and Beech streets.

Furthermore, left turns by eastbound traffic from High street into Charlotte street and southbound traffic from Hanover street into High street will be prohibited, if the police committee's recommendations to council Monday night are approved.

Qualifications of these moves will be: Loading zones on Charlotte street will be provided where needed, and all the parking changes will be on a temporary basis.

This was learned from authoritative sources last night.

The changes will be part of the overall traffic survey being made by Burgess William A. Griffith and J. Max Creswell, chairman of the police committee.

The survey includes the busy downtown area, bounded by Beech, South, Manatwamy and Adams streets.

OTHER PROPOSALS in the overall survey have been to make at least two streets, Chestnut and Walnut, one-way, but no action on these measures is expected Monday night.

The Charlotte street traffic muddle is a problem of long standing.

After a series of accidents there the past winter and spring, public demand grew for a remedy to halt traffic casualties.

Businessmen along the stretch of the highway from High to Beech streets were most vociferous, many asking for two-way traffic with a ban on parking, and a few suggesting one-way traffic.

CHARLOTTE STREET traffic was discussed at a meeting of the police committee held the past May 3.

At that time, Burgess Griffith came out strongly for one-way traffic on Charlotte street, north to Beech street, and a ban on the two left-hand turns at the High-Charlotte and High-Hanover street intersections.

He had to leave the meeting early, however, to attend a conference at his church. By the time he returned his suggestion on Charlotte street had been turned down.

Since that time, other meetings of police committee members have been held, all closed sessions.

JUDGING FROM the recommendations expected Monday night, the bureau won a majority of the members to his way of thinking, at least on the banning of left-hand turns.

In another development in the local traffic picture, the Pottstown Chamber of Commerce's committee on parking and traffic control, which had been discussing plans to acquire land for future day abandoned those plans. The committee approved other traffic recommendations made by Pottstown borough council.

$7300 Annual Boost In Revenue Seen as Water Survey Ends

Income of the Pottstown Water company will be increased approximately $7310 annually as a result of a comprehensive water survey, completed yesterday.

The survey covered Pottstown, West Pottsgrove and South Pottstown. Its purpose was to learn the exact number of water outlets in homes and apartments.

Water is sold locally on a flat-rate basis, and Borough Manager Dow I. Sears emphasized, "We did not increase the rates and we have no intention of doing so."

He explained that the increases in the bills facing most water users stem from the fact that they have more fixtures now than they did when the last check was made before World War II.

THE COST of the survey was $1762 for the five men doing the house-to-house work, while another $300 was expended for part-time clerical assistance and the survey cards.

A breakdown of the job showed that 5775 individual service cards were filled out.

There were 1980 changes in Pottstown and South Pottstown—only a few of those in the Chester county community—and 300 in Stowe.

A net increase of $6080 was recorded in Pottstown and in South Pottstown, and $1230 in West Pottsgrove.

Not all the changes in the number of fixtures were increases, it was pointed out. There was approximately a $750 deduction made as the result of the survey.

The task was begun the past March. Three men worked on a full-time basis, with two others working for approximately one (Continued on Page Five)

Two Boys Hurt In Mishaps; One Struck by Car

Two Pottstown boys were injured last night in accidents on borough streets. One was hit by a car. The other fell from a bicycle.

William Powell, 13, of 68 South Charlotte street, suffered a fracture of the left arm as he tumbled from his bike when it hit a stone at the intersection of South and Washington streets shortly after 9 o'clock.

He was taken by a passing motorist to Memorial hospital.

The 13-year-old had worse luck with his bicycle than four other members of his family had with their car the past Sunday afternoon.

Although it was rammed by another car at King and North Charlotte streets and turned over on its side, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Powell escaped with minor bruises, while two other sons, Joseph and Francis, were unscathed.

GARY BISHOP, 12, of 20 North Washington street, escaped with multiple abrasions when he was hit by a sedan with enough force to break its left headlight.

Truce Set for Friday In Palestine; Hopes Dim

CAIRO, Egypt, June 8 (AP)—Count Folke Bernadotte disclosed tonight that he has asked Jews and Arabs to stop fighting in Palestine at 6 a. m. Greenwich time Friday (2 a. m. Pottstown time).

He said he had asked for Arab and Jewish replies to his proposed truce terms by noon tomorrow (8 a. m. Pottstown time).

But dispatches from Amman, the Trans-Jordan capital, said prospects for any truce were growing dim.

While all Arab states were reported standing firm against accepting Jewish conditions for a truce, a reinforced Egyptian spearhead was reported fighting to get out of a Jewish trap at Isdud, 23 miles south of Tel Aviv.

A Tel Aviv dispatch said Egyptian planes bombed the center of Tel Aviv in relays all morning long, and hit the tall office building housing Bernadotte's mission there. Bernadotte's aides said he has no office there, but a U.N. office is at that location.

Both sides were reported feverishly endeavoring to strengthen their positions while truce negotiations go on.

GRADS HONORED ON AWARD DAY

Deserving Seniors Get Scholarships, Medals at High School Ceremony

Scholarships, medals, trophies, watches, and cash awards were heaped upon students at the Pottstown Senior High school yesterday afternoon as the class of '48 observed the annual senior award day.

The ceremonies were held in the auditorium of the school under the direction of Harry L. Smith, principal, who introduced the students receiving awards and the faculty members or guests making the presentation.

One junior, Henry Pollak, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Pollak, Linfield, received an award at the ceremonies. Pollak was presented with a two-year scholarship to The Hill school by John G. Kendall, alumni director.

The senior awards were as follows:

Mrs. George Harberger, daughter of Hilary M. Lessig, presented the $5 Hilary M. Lessig prize-memorial to Thomas E. Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Miller, Sr., 1207 Center avenue. Miller won the award for being that member of the graduating class who has taken all the High school work in Pottstown Senior High school and who has surmounted an unusual number of obstacles in pursuing the High school course.

THE SCHOOL SERVICE award of $5 was presented by Vice Principal Stanley I. Davenport to Pansy Goodyear, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Goodyear, 455 North Charlotte street. It was awarded for attendance at the school for at least three years and consistent work for its advancement.

Catherine Elliott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Elliott, 473 North Charlotte street, was awarded the $10 language prize sponsored by the class of 1912 for excellence in 11:30 a. m. (Continued on Page Five)

Turk Regime Falls Over Home Policies

ANKARA, Turkey, Wednesday, June 9 (AP)—Premier Hasan Saka's government collapsed early today under mounting criticism from the public and its own political party over domestic economic policies.

President Ismet Inonu immediately asked Saka to form a new government.

Political circles said they believed the next cabinet would have new ministers in the economic, commerce, labor and possibly the agricultural ministries.

Shortages of staple foodstuffs, charges of irregularities in the export of grains and failure of the government to adjust Turkey's weak economic structure led to the cabinet's resignation.

Senale Cuts Draft To Two Years, Okays Aliens for Service

WASHINGTON, June 8 (AP)—The Senate made two changes in the draft bill today, then in a late night session agreed to vote on a civil rights amendment tomorrow.

The amendments approved were (1) to limit the proposed Selective Service bill to two years instead of five as first planned, and (2) to permit 25,000 aliens to serve in the American armed forces at home and abroad.

The civil rights proposal scheduled for decision tomorrow is the segregation amendment sponsored jointly by Senator Russell (D-Ga.) and Senator Maybank (D-S.C.).

It would let enlisted men serve in segregated units if they request. The extra-hour session tonight, second in a row, was featured by a lengthy speech by Senator Langer (R-ND) on a proposed amendment to limit private profits from the draft program under certain conditions.

The weary senators finally agreed to call it a day after Maybank's speech. They decided to reconvene tomorrow at 11 a. m. (Pottstown time), allow those in favor of the bill to speak one hour and opponents 30 minutes, and then vote at 11:30 a. m.

Borough to Begin Installing Fire Horn At Reservoir Site

Installation of a new fire horn at the site of the Washington hill water reservoir will begin within a few days.

This was decided last night at a meeting of borough council's fire committee, held in borough hall.

Upon the advice of a group of firefighters led by Fire Chief Richard E. Lindauer, the committee decided to try one new horn first.

If the combination of the water reservoir and borough hall alarms proves sufficient for the entire area to hear, a third horn, provided in the $45,000 contract with the Gamewell Fire Alarm company, will not be used.

THE GREATER PART of the borough's new fire alarm system has been installed, with a "nerve center" in borough hall and a "vocal" system connecting borough hall and the three fire houses with one another.

Last night, the committee authorized Borough Manager Dow I. Sears to order 18 new boxes and 36 signal wheels, for installation in new-type boxes, from the Gamewell company.

These were not included in the original bond issue, but enough (Continued on Page Five)

Douglassville Bridge Closed for Repairs

The old covered bridge at Douglassville was closed to traffic yesterday morning pending extensive repairs and improvements to the structure. W. C. Fry Jr., Berks county engineer, announced.

It was expected the bridge would be closed for three or three and a half months while repairs are being made, Fry said.

The decision to repair the span came as a result of an inspection made the past week with State officials. Fry was instructed to prepare specifications which will be sent to the State department of forests and waters for approval.

Fry probably will take the plans to Harrisburg. After they have been approved, bids will be asked for work to start immediately.

Hillcrest Area Children Assured Of Playground, Full Time Leader

Construction of a Summer playground for use by the children living in the Hillcrest area began yesterday after The Hill gave the Pottstown Recreation commission permission to use a portion of its land for that purpose, Francis Donnon, recreation director, announced.

The playground, which lies just south of South Hill boulevard and west of North Keim street, will have a full time leader during the Summer months, Donnon said.

To facilitate the equipping of the playground and to start it functioning as soon as possible, a meeting of parents living in the Hillcrest section has been called for 7:30 o'clock tomorrow night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Schoenly, 647 Hawthorne avenue.

Notices of the meeting were delivered to all parents by the Schoenly children.

DONNON EXPLAINED the meeting would be held to form a Hillcrest Playground association to cooperate in playground activities and to select committees to help the commission in its work there. He urged all parents to attend the opening session of the group.

Yesterday, a bulldozer was working on the playground site, spreading loads of fill to level the area. Donnon estimated it would take approximately 25 loads of fill to construct the playground.

Pupils' Fines Give Camp Fund a Boost

For the past few months, boys and girls in Section 202, Pottstown Junior High school, have been fined three cents every time one of them was caught chewing gum in class.

Yesterday, with the close of school near enough for them to believe the fund would become no larger, they donated the $1.06 total to The Mercury's Fresh Air fund.

The fund now stands at $1558.56, or enough to send 111 boys and girls to the Pottstown Community camp, near Earlville for a week this Summer.

Contributions still are needed, however.

If you want to help some underprivileged Pottstown youngsters get to a country camp for at least a week this Summer, send your donation to The Mercury Fresh Air fund today.

Borough Gets Scare As Storm Clouds Hover

The rubble from Monday night's thunderstorm was still being cleared away last night when Pottstonians got a scare about an encore performance.

In the hour after 7:30 p. m. the mercury shot down 15 degrees, a strong breeze sprang up, clouds gathered and thunder rumbled but no storm came. In the afternoon, the borough had been hit by a rain squall.

Among those who were patching up yesterday in the aftermath of the area's first real thunderstorm were caretakers of Cedarville Methodist church, the parish house of which was struck by lightning the night before.

The outlook for today is cloudy and cooler and tomorrow the same temperatures but sunny.

State Pushes Drive Against Smokers Hedging on Taxes

HARRISBURG, June 8 (AP)—The Commonwealth is going after smokers who buy cigarettes out of the State by mail to escape paying the Pennsylvania tax.

Several thousand customers of mail order houses and stores outside the State have been billed for the four-cent a pack tax by the State revenue department. Acting Secretary Otto F. Messner said today "there haven't been any refusals to pay up."

Messner and other revenue department officials held a day-long conference, meanwhile, on discussions of methods for tightening up on collections of the State's new soft drink tax. Messner declined to discuss details.

REVENUES FROM THE soft drink levy were off more than $4,000,000 from the $17,400,000 estimate for the first year. State sources attributed the difference to reports of nation-wide slump in soft drink sales. The Keystone Bottlers association has disputed this, however.

The 1947 Legislature doubled the tax on cigarettes for the current two-year fiscal period and made it a crime to possess a carton or more of untaxed cigarettes.

"There is no doubt that there has been an increase in bootlegging of cigarettes since the tax was increased but we are in better shape now than ever to combat it," commented W. H. Beachy, deputy revenue secretary and director of the bureau of collections.

He explained Pennsylvania has agreements with 38 States taxing cigarettes under which information on mail order buyers is exchanged.

"WHEN SOMEONE buys a carton or two in a New York store, the store claims exemption from the tax in New York State," Beachy said. "Under our agreement with New York, they send us a list of these buyers and we send New York a list of New Yorkers who bought tax-free cigarettes in Pennsylvania."

Beachy said that the lists are exchanged monthly and bills for the unpaid taxes go out immediately to the local buyers. In event someone refuses to pay up, a tax settlement will be issued by the revenue department and turned over to the State justice department for collection.

Beachy said that a proposed law now pending before Congress will make it a Federal violation to avoid payment of State cigarette taxes. It would, he added, result in reports on out-of-State cigarette sales from the ten States now taxing smokers.

"WHAT REALLY HURTS is when some concerns in a non-taxing State send out notices that you can save 40 cents on a carton and that if you buy five cartons, express charges will be paid," Beachy added.

As part of the State's campaign to stamp out bootlegging, two railroad workers were fined $25 and costs at Scranton for possession of untaxed cigarettes.

Beachy said that since the arrests the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad has announced that any employee convicted of bootlegging smokes into the State "will be fired immediately."

Firemen pour water on the still smoldering debris after a fire damaged and destroyed several business buildings in the midtown section of Duluth, Minn., with an estimated property damage of about $1,000,000. The flames, fanned by high winds, raged out of control for several hours.

Senate Unit Okays Reciprocal Trade Bill; Tosses Out House Section for Congress Veto

WASHINGTON, June 8 (AP)—A one-year extension of the reciprocal trade agreements act, in modified form, was approved by the Senate finance committee today. Several Republican leaders applauded the compromise but Democrats assailed it as deadly to the whole trade agreements program.

The committee threw out a House-approved provision giving Congress the power to veto, by majority vote, tariff cuts ordered by the President if they were greater than the Federal Tariff Commission recommended.

Instead the committee approved a compromise proposal which (1) requires the President to wait for the Tariff Commission's recommendations before cutting any tariffs, and (2) requires him to give Congress a detailed report if he goes beyond those recommendations.

This compromise was drafted by Chairman Millikin (R-Colo.) of the finance committee and Chairman Vandenberg (R-Mich.) of the foreign relations committee.

MILLIKIN said it gives the President "every power he has at the present time."

But Senator Byrd (D-Va.), a member of the finance committee, said the Senate bill "will do irreparable harm to the trade agreements program," which he described as "the only reasonable hope existing in the world today for a restoration of international trade."

One Democratic argument is that the President will have little, if any chance to make tariff-cutting agreements with other countries during the one-year extension of the act if he has to wait until the Tariff Commission.

'Hobby' Lessons to Vets at U. S. Expense Scored by House Unit; Fund Slash Voted

WASHINGTON, June 8 (AP)—An end to "hobby" lessons for veterans and a cut in atomic energy commission funds were recommended today by the House appropriations committee.

It did so in reporting out a $5,795,048.931 measure to finance the Veterans administration and several other agencies. It is the last of the big money bills for the 1949 fiscal year starting July 1, 1949.

Its total was 8 percent, or $504,570,069 below what President Truman had requested.

The committee recommended cuts of $48,150,000 in the atomic energy commission's budget and $354,600,000 in veterans' funds. In the latter connection it urged a ban on continued spending for recreational and avocational training of veterans under the GI Bill of Rights.

IT CITED A BUDGET bureau report estimating at more than $200,000,000 a year the cost of avocational and recreational training. Members of Congress have said that veterans are trained in private flying, tap dancing, ball room dancing and other things.

The committee ordered that no more such training be started after July 1, but said vets taking the training up to that time may continue it. It left to the veterans' administration the right to decide the types of training to come under the ban.

All the committee's recommendations are subject to House action when the bill is debated probably tomorrow. None of them is expected to be changed.

EXCEPT FOR a relatively small catch-all deficiency bill, the measure completes the committee's initial appropriations activities for this session of Congress.

It now has approved 19 money bills appropriating an estimated $33,500,000,000, or about $2,000,000,000 less than the aggregate budget estimates.

Jury Demands Death For Convicted Killer

HARRISBURG, June 8 (AP)—A jury decreed death in the electric chair today for George Minoff, 51, for the pistol slaying of two men in a church hall during an argument over selection of a new pastor.

A jury of eight men and four women convicted Minoff on two counts of first degree murder in Dauphin county court after deliberating two hours and 40 minutes.

The church fight, ending in the shooting, occurred on April 4 in the Macedonian-Bulgarian church hall in nearby Steelton. The victims of the shooting were Koche Atzef, 24, and Boris Mloff, 32.

The defense claimed Minoff fired only when he otherwise was unable to escape a dozen or more attackers who were beating him with chairs and their fists.

Minoff testified he was "afraid for my life" when he fired the fatal shots. He said he did not see who

Scouts Map Plans For Scrap Drives; Stowe Troop Cited

A scavenger hunt and plans for scrap drives marked Monday night's meetings of Pottstown area Boy Scout troops.

The Indian and Pioneer patrols of Troop 15 tied for first place in their scavenger hunt, as each team collected nine of the ten items and returned to Grace Lutheran church with them in an hour.

Among the items listed by Scoutmaster Harold Houck were a live chicken, a spider web and a red handkerchief. The winning teams found all of these tough items, bringing two live chickens to scurry around the scout rooms, but missed out on obtaining a 1945 issue of a magazine.

Carl Stahl led the Indians and Albert Erb, the Pioneers.

The troop planned a scout drive Saturday morning and afternoon to obtain funds to purchase 17x17 tents. It also planned a hike to its troop cabin near Montgomery County park Sunday. The hike will begin at 1:30 p. m. and will conclude with a night swim.

STOWE TROOP 1 scheduled the other scrap drive, also for Saturday, beginning at 8 o'clock from St. Paul's Reformed church.

Bert Scanlin, neighborhood commissioner, presented Scoutmaster Paul Miller with the gold certificate won by the troop at the recent camporee. The Stowe scouts were one of but four troops in the Continental district to win the camping awards.

Miller and Richard Fry also led a discussion of Camp Delmont, where 16 of the troop will go the second week of July.

THE MEETING of Troop 8 in Emmanuel Lutheran church was in charge of Forrest Nace, assistant scoutmaster since Scoutmaster Donald Fries is in Pottstown hospital recovering from an appendectomy.

The brief meeting of 15 scouts was opened by Oscar Darlington, and was devoted chiefly to a discussion of the camping trip to Delmont and of other activities scheduled for the summer.

The gathering ended with games of softball.

Sen. Myers Named Platform Chairman

WASHINGTON, June 8 (AP)—Senator Francis J. Myers of Pennsylvania tonight was reported picked by party leaders to head the Democratic platform committee.

The first round of the Southern civil rights battle will be fought before this committee.

Myers has been designated as chairman of a group which will begin platform work before the July 12 Philadelphia convention. He is expected to head the committee when it formally organizes at the convention.

In picking the 46-year-old Pennsylvania senator, Democratic national committee leaders indicated there will be no backing away from President Truman's civil rights program.

Mr. Truman called for laws to ban poll taxes, race discrimination on jobs, lynching and race segregation on trains and buses.

However, National Chairman J. Howard McGrath has said he would be willing for the party to stand on the general statement of principles made in the 1944 platform. It called for civil rights without spelling out any proposed action.

Southern Democrats, who raised no objection to the provision four years ago, are expected to counter this with a proposal for a strong states' rights plank.

Also elected by the group were the Rev. Donald T. Floyd, pastor of Trinity Evangelical Congregational church, vice president; the Rev. John L. Smoker, pastor of Baitzel Memorial Evangelical United Brethren church, secretary; and the Rev. John B. Frantz, pastor of Trinity Reformed church, treasurer.

Story, pastor of the First Baptist church; the Rev. Frantz and the Rev. Floyd to the commission on weekday church schools.

At the same time the program committee outlined the program the group will follow when it reconvenes in September. The association will meet on the first Monday of each month in Zion's Reformed church at 10:30 o'clock in the morning.

Devotionals will be held first, followed by a short business session, and concluding with a guest speaker or the reading of a paper.

The program schedule was approved without change by the 15 ministers attending Monday's meeting.

Souco School Board Votes to Reduce Cost Of Student Lunches

Good news on the inflation front came from the South Coventry school board at its meeting Monday night.

Mrs. Belva Kulp, director of the school lunch program, reported that there was a substantial cash balance left at the end of the term, and also a good supply of food.

Therefore, the board members ruled, the price of the lunches next year would be 20 cents instead of 25 cents.

A time clock to ring bells automatically in the schoolrooms at the end of 20 or 45-minute periods will be purchased for next year, the board decided.

A CONTRACT FOR school supplies for instruction and janitorial work was awarded to the firm submitting the low bid of $315, the Estate of Harry A. Keene, Pottstown.

The coal contract for 24 tons, to be supplied as needed, was awarded again to Richard Mallick.

A proposal to repair toilet facilities at the school also was passed.

The search for a teacher for the fourth fifth and sixth grades will continue until next month, since no action was taken at the meeting on the one application received. The session was in charge of Charles A. Fries, president, and all members were present.

Dump Blaze Near Plant Extinguished by Firemen

A stubborn dump fire which threatened butane tanks near the Spicer Manufacturing company plant was extinguished by the Good Will Fire company early Monday morning.

The first call was received by the company at 2:15 o'clock. After speeding to the scene, firemen used booster streams for more than an hour and a half to quell the blaze. Herbert Quinter drove the company pumper to early morning fire.

The ministerial association named the Rev. James D. Matchette, pastor of Seales Memorial Methodist church; the Rev. A. Burtis Hall, Jr., pastor of the First Presbyterian church; the Rev. Delane E. Story, pastor of the First Baptist church; the Rev. Frantz and the Rev. Floyd to the commission on weekday church schools.

Stowe Board Renews Plea for Health Officer

Members of the Stowe Health board Monday night again recommended that Daniel Wien, of 919 Glasgow road, Stowe, be appointed West Pottsgrove township health officer.

The group met at the home of Jacob N. Romich, 416 East Vine street.

Romich explained that the board had recommended Wien at its May meeting, but that the township commissioners had not yet decided whether or not to approve the selection.

If approved, Wien would replace the late John Naylor.

Nomination of Wien was the principal item of business at Monday night's session.

Board president George Mest was in charge, and the other members, Leonard Levensgood and Lester Yerger, both were present.

The next meeting will be held June 24.

New Pottstown Housing Requires Public Pressure

THE time is fast approaching when Pottstown must stop talking about housing. Houses must be built!

Progress of the borough is being hindered because of the housing shortage. Industry wants to establish new shops here, but won't because there's no housing for its workers.

Will Pottstown allow a tight lobby of contractors, real estate dealers and landlords to obstruct housing here?

Does Pottstown really want to get rid of its slums, stop the creeping paralysis of blight and provide decent, modern housing for its people?

Does Pottstown want to build homes for its heroic veterans?

Those questions must be answered by the people themselves.

The slum dwellers, the veterans who are housed in with their in-laws, the unprivileged who have been forced to live in chicken houses, in cellars, AND EVEN IN TENTS, can't expect help from Burgess William A.
Griffith's "citizens' housing committee."

SO IT MUST BE THE PEOPLE OF POTTSTOWN THEMSELVES who must help solve the housing problem and make Pottstown the kind of community they would like it to be.

They can if they really want to.

If they want housing, they can demand modern, decent dwellings in decent environment for people who need them!

They can demand that Pottstown borough council provide the housing! Pottstown borough council can do this by floating a bond issue, by erecting homes!

Pottstown borough council can ask the people to approve such a loan at the November election! Then council can make plans to erect modern homes for Pottstown's homeless.

Yes, it's a complicated matter. Many months of careful planning will be necessary.
But the authority, the money and the planning, supervising and technical skills are available. They can do the job!

ONLY THE PEOPLE MUST DECIDE!
Does Pottstown really want modern housing for its people?

Pottstown is not so helpless that it can't do the job itself!

Instead of HOPING that someone will do the job, Pottstown borough council should demonstrate that it has the intelligence and the ingenuity and the aggressiveness to lick this problem.

The problem will be complicated. But Pottstown must recognize and accept the situation. Pottstown must realize that the complex machinery of running public housing can function only if public opinion is determined to make it function. That determination on the part of the people must be transferred to their elected representatives in borough council. Council is the master gear in that housing machinery!

The people of Pottstown must be willing to help their less fortunate neighbors. They MUST DEMAND HOUSING, even though they will hear objections; some phony, some legitimate.

There will be objections from many quarters. There will be objections to layouts, costs, rentals, the type of buildings. But unless the people of Pottstown are broadminded enough to overcome those objections, Pottstown will suffer a blow from which it may never recover.

New housing is necessary if Pottstown and its citizens are to prosper. The spread of blighted areas must be stopped. They breed crime and increase the taxes that all must pay for police, and fire protection, for jails, institutions for care of poverty-stricken, insane and incompetent.

Pottstown's housing shortage is speeding up the flight to the suburbs that is draining the community of hundreds of good citizens every year.

The people of Pottstown can help solve this problem if they'll tell their councilmen to support a housing program.

Council then should support such a measure in a spirit of achieving the greatest good for the greatest number. They should not obstruct it because some feature runs counter to one of their pet special interests.

Low-rent housing and a start toward a better Pottstown are within Pottstown's grasp.
But their fate depends on the will of the people.

Wal, I see by the papers where in the eight years Thomas Jefferson served as presi-

the cheapest!
Speaking of costs — an

Choice of Children or a Home

To the Editor: Jack P. Martin ("Heartless Landlords," Readers Say,
June 5) has a good gripe.

I am a veteran — served two years in the Woman's Reserve. My husband was with the Army in the Pacific for three years.

Up until two weeks ago we had a landlord like that of which you write. His excuse was to make offices from an apartment. But when two other apartments in the same building were empty, we couldn't have either. Why? Because we have a four-months-old daughter.

The very day we moved — he was quite sorry about it all, but he wanted to get started on his offices.

Here it is — just two weeks and as I pass the building I see just how anxious he was to get to work on his project — another family has moved into the apartment.

That landlord was never a child. He was born just the way he is — a heartless old man. Oh, he has a son, but I don't imagine he was ever a child, either.
But he can afford to be the way he is — a prominent real estate agent
"cleaning up" on the veterans.

Nowadays you have no life of your own. It's up to your landlord if it's permissible to have children or not.

Worried About Pupils' Conduct

To the Editor: I am wondering if any other parents present at the baccalaureate services at the Pottstown Senior High school Sunday night received the same impression I did from the Rev. Paul C. Scheuer's sermon.

From some of the veiled remarks it would seem he was inferring that some High school boys and girls have been guilty of serious indiscretions, if not downright immoral conduct, particularly on the recent class trip.

I am sure our boys and girls could not be capable of such conduct, especially as they have received such fine training in our churches, homes, and schools.

But, if I am wrong, if these trips just provide opportunities for orgies of drinking, smoking, and perhaps worse, we should know about it.

Is this what was meant by those particular sermon references?

Pottstown CONCERNED PARENT

Gouging on High Prices

To the Editor: The only man who isn't taking his cut out of the current high prices is the guy who works for someone else, pays rent for his home and takes his family out to dinner once a month.

Sit down in one of Pottstown's restaurants and order a sandwich, or a full course dinner. You find that prices have gone up. But what do you get? Two pieces of bread without any butter — not even margarine — with a few slivers of unsavory meat between. Cream for your coffee is rationed. They dump it in before you're served.

At home, you get a notice from the landlord that he's boosting your rent because of "increases in costs."

Yet you know — and he knows, too — that he hasn't been inside of your house for three years. He'll wait until the place gets so run down until you're dissatisfied and move out, if you can. Then he'll sell the house for twice what he put into it.

Maybe Stalin was thinking of these greedy individuals when he said capitalism eventually will kill itself.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
GERALD C., 39, is a university professor of Greek. I have a nervous twitching of the lid of my left eye," he acknowledged.

"It began a year or so ago. I didn't pay much attention to it at first. Finally it got so troublesome, however, that my left eye would be almost entirely closed.

"I couldn't open it until the spasms expended itself. My ophthalmologist examined me carefully and finally told me he could find nothing to explain it, so he sent me to a neurologist.

"The latter found nothing organically wrong with the nerves, but decided it must be due to a psychological complex, so he I am. What is your diagnosis,
Dr. Crane?"

THIS AILMENT proved to be a neurosis. Gerald's internal conflict had been converted into a physical spasm of the orbicular muscle of his left eye, thus producing the spasmodic twitching.
Gerald had married a very intelligent but prudish woman 18 years previously.
This wife looked upon marital relations
as degrading and vulgar.

Because of her biased mental attitude, therefore, coupled with her present age of 39 and about 30 pounds of excess weight, she had begun to lose her physical appeal.

Gerald was an idealist of high morals who prided himself on having always been true to his wife.

He refused to look upon other attractive women, although his wife's pride had deflated his masculine vanity in 18 years.

His young secretary had a great deal of physical appeal. Gerald's gaze had dwelt upon her on many occasions.

But his well developed conscience checked the growing attraction for her.
By this spasmodic twitching of his left eye, then to the point of closing "the eye entity" in a prolonged spasm.

Gerald was becoming introverted and anxious of his own thoughts and feelings.

He freely admitted that the twitching disappeared as soon as he stood before his class to lecture, and it didn't return until he got back to his office.

The first step in curing a neurosis is to bring the conflict out into the open, so the patient can view it scientifically and objectively.

These and steps to re-train or redirect the patient's behavior. This involved, in having conferences with his wife.

But the twitching was a habit of a years duration, so it required a little special encouragement. Habits aren't turned on and off suddenly like the water faucet.

Stalin Expertly Analyzed In Naval Officer's Report

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, June 8 — A revealing study of Joseph Stalin's character, and his long-range program for Russia, including an analysis of his attitude toward the outcome of the capitalist-Communist clash and possible war with the United States, has been made by Rear Admiral Ellis M. Zacharias, wartime deputy chief of Naval intelligence and a top expert in this field. It is almost required reading in government offices which must deal at arms' length with this "enigma inside a riddle."

Entitled "An Intelligence Report to President Truman" on "What Stalin Thinks," it appears in the current issue of the United Nations World magazine.
Admiral Zacharias explains that he has tried to analyze Stalin "with the methods and techniques of the trained intelligence officer."

He bases his conclusions on "all the bona fide information available — biographies of both friend and foe, the subject's own writings, evidence gained from documents and interrogation of 'returning travelers.' He also consulted "several top-ranking diplomats with recent access to Stalin and the Kremlin."

His data checks accurately with other information on Stalin flowing into the White House, State, National Defense and other departments at the Capital.
Inasmuch as our representatives in Russia have only rare contact with the Soviet dictator or his aides, these reports form our only guide to his immediate and future policies.

FACT: Admiral Zacharias does not believe that an immediate get-together of President Truman and Stalin would break the present impasse because tension is now too taut. But he favors an eventual personal conference with a well-prepared agenda of specific Russo-American difficulties. He also advocates a five-or-ten year non-aggression pact, with the United Nations as the "supreme arbitrator" in all disputes.

Stalin does not want or anticipate a war in the near future, according to the American intelligence officer. But he "is apprehensive of the United States today because he suspects us of aggressive intentions."

"Stalin will not launch aggression, if only because of his apprehension that the Soviet system might not survive another war — a fear he voiced in conversations with W. Averell Harriman."

DOOMED: Despite his great respect for the natural resources, the manpower and industrial strength the U. S. showed in World War II, he feels that western capitalism as we know it is "doomed" because of its own basic weaknesses. But he denies point-blank that he aims to cause or even accelerate what he regards as the "inevitable doom of the western world."

To several interviewers he described the idea that he was secretly plotting a world revolution as "cosmic, tragic, tragicomic." To Walter Duranty he said:
"Institutions and systems are not changed by words; they are changed by natural causes."

He elaborated on this theme in a talk with Publisher Roy Howard:

"We Marxists believe that a revolution will take place in other countries. But it will take place only when the revolutionaries in those other countries think it possible or necessary. The export of revolution is nonsense. Every country will make its own revolution if it wants to, and if it does not want to, there will be no revolution."

He earnestly believes, however, that the western capitalist system, including our own, cannot survive "one or two more wars."

OBSESSION: Stalin's "major preoccupation" today is the safety and security of Soviet territory from Berlin to Vladivostok. This haunting obsession underlies his aggressive, postwar policies in Eastern Germany, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Mongolia and Korea — the very ones which have led to the present stalemate.

Poland, he recalls, has been the "historic corridor" for invasion of Russia from the west. Next time, he figures, all Eastern Europe, the Balkans, the Scandinavian peninsula or the Far East may become hostile gateways to a "pushbutton" war. So, he insists on "strong, buffer states," sympathetic to Moscow, between his homeland and possible enemies.

He compares his program in this respect to the Truman Doctrine in Turkey and Greece, and to the Marshall Plan in Western Europe. He is honest enough to admit that his territorial expansion "predates" our attempt to keep these nations out of his clutches.

POLICIES: The need for understanding the man in the Kremlin, says Admiral Zacharias, is that "Stalin is Russia." He has no cabinet, advisors or brain trust who decide major policies or actions for him. A former private secretary, Bayanov, is quoted to this effect:

"Stalin never takes part in a discussion until it is concluded. He is silent and listens attentively. Then, when all have spoken, he gets up and says a few words. And his view is always adopted."

SUCCESSOR: Although 68, Stalin is described as "a man of great though somewhat subdued vigor, which has not been impaired by the fatigue of the war years." He has a "slight heart ailment which his doctors diagnose as serious but by no means certain to be fatal." He takes extremely good care of his health.

He is determined to leave behind a "strong and consolidated state" and a "Communist party firmly entrenched in domestic power and world leadership."

Remembering his fierce struggle with Trotsky after Lenin's death, he will probably arrange for a "successor or successors who will be able to continue the Stalinist program of 'evolutionary socialism' without interruptions precipitated or necessitated by fighting first for recognition and their own personal power."

He is now writing a voluminous book as a guide to those who come after.

JOBS UPON A TIME

Former Senator Gerald P. Nye was born in Hortonville, Wis., where his father edited a country newspaper.
After his graduation from high school in Wittenberg, Wis., Nye took over one of his father's papers to begin a career in journalism. In 1919 Nye became editor and manager of a Cooperstown, N. D., newspaper, and when a North Dakota senator died in 1925, Nye won a gubernatorial appointment to fill the vacant seat, and later was elected as an independent against a Republican.

United States Congressman Sol
Bloom, who, since 1924, has represented one of the wealthiest congressional districts in New York, was born in Pekin, Ill., of poor emigrant parents. Sol peddled papers in Peoria, Ill., to which city his parents had moved, then when they went to San Francisco, he got a job in a brush factory when he was only eight years old. At 13 he moved to the business office of a San Francisco newspaper and from then on Sol's fortunes gained, until at 19 he was already ready to retire. Taking a job in Chicago, Sol Bloom remained to open a string of music stores and publish a few popular songs, then transferred to New York real estate. Bloom held the most important post in the House as chairman of the foreign affairs committee, which he recently relinquished.

Police Search For Driver In 'Disappearing Crash'

The enormous 1939 sedan that struck a telephone pole the past Friday and precipitated a "disappearing accident," still lies unclaimed at a High Street garage.

The driver, believed to have been injured, made a brief appearance at the garage two days ago, but when told he couldn't have his car right away he disappeared before police could be notified.

Pottstown police aren't sure what, if any, charge will be made against him, but they do want to find out what happened to him after the accident.

The sedan was impounded after another young man nearly hit a patrol car while he was "returning" it from the accident scene on North Adams street.

Another of Pottstown's underprivileged children will be added to the growing number to spend a week at the Pottstown Community camp, Earlville, it was announced at last night's meeting of the Family Welfare society.

John Orr, a member of the society's board, will sponsor one child to be selected by Miss Martha Shoemaker, executive secretary.

The society's meeting, in the Kulp building, marked the first to be directed by the group's newly-elected president, Horace Y. Seidel.

Miss Shoemaker's monthly report showed the society had contributed eight orders of groceries, 132 quarts of milk and 13 units of clothing. She issued a request for a 9 x 12 rug for an elderly couple.

There will be no meetings of the board during July and August.

"Come over for tea, Myra, and we'll chat about it. It isn't fair to tie up the party-line."

That's true thoughtfulness! The party-line isn't the place for long-drawn-out conversations.

Four questions on party-line service: Do you keep calls brief? Do you space calls so that others may use the line in between? Do you hang up gently if the line is in use? Do you give the right of way to emergency calls?

If you can answer YES to all four questions, you're a good party-line neighbor. You're helping to make party-line service good service... for others and for yourself!

Probation Indicated As Bally Man Pleads Guilty to Car Theft
By Staff Correspondent
NORRISTOWN, June 8 — After pleading guilty to driving a car which he wrecked, without the owner's consent, Joseph Vassil, of Bally, was told by Judge William F. Dannehower today that if he pays for the car, he will be placed on probation.

Vassil was ordered to return June 18 for sentence. Meanwhile, the value of the 1935 sedan of Arthur Mauger, Sixth and Manatawny streets, is to be determined.

Mauger said he parked the sedan at High and Hanover streets April 19. When he returned it was gone. A short time before, Mauger added, he was talking to Vassil, who was seeking a means of getting home.

Vassil admitted the theft and said he ran off the road near Amityville and hit a utility pole. He was driving with a learner's permit at the time. The sedan was a total loss.

The defendant was arrested by Pottstown Motor Patrolman Earl J. Rhoads, whose investigation was described to the court by Chief of Police James A. Laughead.

According to Ackerman, the office is accepting original enlistments of High school graduates for Navy training schools, including construction battalion schools at Port Huenehme, Calif. An unlimited number of openings are available.

Many openings for broken service personnel to re-enlist with a rating also are available, he said.

'Ford Man Attacked, Treated at Hospital Assault Fined

John Brill, 25, of 20 Second avenue, Royersford, was removed to Phoenixville hospital early yesterday morning, after he was brutally beaten.

His alleged assailant, Harry Long, 44, Queen street, Spring City, was placed under arrest yesterday noon on a charge of disorderly conduct, brought in a warrant by Royersford Police Chief Bryson Turner, for which he was fined $10 and costs.

It was understood Long faces the possibility of being re-arrested at the instance of his victim on a charge of assault and battery when his condition improves. The hearing yesterday afternoon was before Justice of the Peace Otto H. Meyer.

THE ALLEGED BEATING took place yesterday morning about 1:30 o'clock, when Brill was walking on the sidewalk on the south side of Main street, between Reading railroad and Second avenue. Brill told police Long stopped in an automobile, came up from behind and began beating him. Long left Brill lying in a coma in a lot near the railroad.

Rocco Amorosa, night crossing watchman at the Reading railroad, heard the fight, and not being able to leave his post, waited until the Royersford police car, driven by Patrolman Earl Hesh, came by. He halted the car and notified the patrolman of the fracas.

Hesh found the man apparently unconscious, lying face down, with his lip cut, practically all his teeth knocked out and his clothing torn. After unsuccessful efforts to secure a doctor, Hesh took him to Phoenixville hospital.

In the hospital it was found the man suffered severe head injuries and possible internal injuries. An X-ray examination was made. Brill was discharged yesterday afternoon.

The arrest of Long followed yesterday, with the co-operation of Chief of Police John Hanebury, Spring City.

Police were told Long's reason for beating up Brill was because Brill owned him $3.50 balance for a pair of used roller skates.

Columbia Flood Rages; Death Toll Reaches 30

PORTLAND, Ore., June 8 (AP)—The third wave of the Columbia river flood rolled into the main valley today—the 20th day of battling against rampaging waters in the Pacific Northwest.

Two more bodies were recovered from shattered Vanport. This lifted the number of flood dead to 30. The homeless totaled 60,000. Property damage was in the multi-millions.

The known dead at Vanport, destroyed in the first wave nine days ago, now is four. There was encouraging news, however, from the Red Cross, which reported that the list of unlocated Vanport persons was dwindling hourly. The list had 725 names yesterday. It was down to 545 today.

The third flood wave was riding from mountain tributaries, 1000 miles upstream, where the hottest sun of the season was melting snowfields.

It will be felt in the critical lower river area Thursday. By Saturday the river will be back up nearly to the height of the first and most destructive crest.

THAT WAVE SMASHED Vanport, a city of 18,700, closed countless waterfront industries and burst into thousands of acres of rich farmland.

The second wave, which reached the ocean yesterday, added to the damage. All told, army engineers estimate 414,000 acres in the Columbia basin have been flooded.

Soil damage has been tremendous. The third wave will push the Columbia up to 30.1 feet Saturday, 15.1 feet above flood level, at Vancouver, Wash., and only two to three inches under the first crest.

It may go even higher. Elmer Fisher, weather bureau river expert, said he could not forecast beyond Saturday.

Softened dikes continued to give way in the Columbia basin and along the Fraser river in Canada.

The Columbia crashed through a third dike at Clatskanie, Ore., flooding 976 acres of dairy land.

The Union Pacific main line east of Portland was cut near Hood River. Passengers were carried around the break by bus.

Atomic Plant Workers Schedule Strike Vote

OAK RIDGE, Tenn., June 8 (AP)—The AFL Atomic Trades and Labor council scheduled a strike vote tonight, but a union spokesman said he was "hopeful" a walkout would not be necessary.

Kenneth L. Scott, AFL organizer and union representative in renewed contract negotiations with Carbide and Carbon Chemicals corporation coupled the strike vote announcement with this assertion: "It looks like there is a desire on both sides to effect a settlement. Our desire is to negotiate a contract—not have a strike."

The munitions, sold March 19, included "miscellaneous shells, directors, machine guns, gun mounts, height finders and aiming circles." The original value was $4,413,936. Argentina paid us $248,604.

The State department report also listed the sale of 17 small naval vessels to Greece for $1,560,000.

FRENCH CABINET OKAYS PLAN TO BUILD GERMANY

Approves 6-Nation Pact For Separate State; Parliament Fight Seen

PARIS, June 8 (AP)—The French cabinet today approved the six-power agreement to set up a separate Western German state, and prepared to push it through parliament by the end of the week.

Foreign Minister Georges Bidault got unanimous cabinet approval of principal provisions in the agreement during a five-hour session under President Vincent Auriol.

The agreement is not popular in France for concessions to Germany are traditionally regarded without favor by the French. But Bidault and Premier Robert Schumann began immediately to map their strategy for winning parliamentary approval.

Only a few items in the pact remain to be considered, mainly arrangements necessary for a currency reform in Western Germany. These are to be cleaned up at a second cabinet meeting tomorrow.

BIDAULT HAS been sharply criticized in the press and in parliament for allegedly "weakly defending" French interests in negotiating the agreement. He is to defend his stand in a closed meeting of the national assembly's foreign affairs committee tomorrow. A communiqué published after today's cabinet meeting said the administration would take the agreement before the national assembly Friday and Saturday for a full debate on foreign affairs.

SEWAGE PLANTS ORDERED HARRISBURG, June 8—State orders for installation of waste treatment plants were issued today by the State Sanitary Water board to the Specialty company, Lower Frederick township, and the Green Tree Dairyman's association, Upper Frederick.

President Dedicates Airfield—Honors 'War Hero' by Mistake

ABOARD PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S TRAIN, ENROUTE TO BUTTE, June 8 (AP)—President Truman dedicated an airfield today to a boy killed in the war—only it turned out to be a girl killed at home.

That was at Carey a little town in Southern Idaho.

Mr. Truman stopped there momentarily as he skimmed across the state by car at a mile a minute pace. He was on the way to Idaho Falls, to pick up his special train and move up into Montana to speak and to meet political and civic leaders at Butte.

Carey had the flags flying, a big welcome banner across its only street, and a wreath and microphone ready. The President dedicated the field from the back seat of his open car.

HE SAID HE was happy to be able to present this wreath to a mother and father of this boy who died that "liberty in this country" might live.

Informed of his error, the President commented: "Well, I congratulate you. It was for the welfare of the country that she did it."

The mother and father were Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Coates. Mrs. Coates told reporters their 18-year-old daughter, Wilma, was killed in a plane crash Feb. 8, 1947.

Mr. Truman shook hands with the parents and said he was sorry for his mistake. "Oh, that's all right," Mrs. Coates told him.

Operators Agree To Offer Contract

WASHINGTON, June 8 (AP)—Soft coal operators today accepted John L. Lewis' challenge to make a contract offer in an effort to avoid another strike after July 1.

The mine owners said nothing about the nature of the proposals they will make, but they asked for another 24 hours to go over them. There was no indication whether the proposed contract will be ready in that time to try on Lewis for size.

Conferences between Lewis and the operators' negotiating committee now are scheduled to resume tomorrow afternoon.

Lewis opened the current contract talks yesterday by saying the United Mine Workers had no wage proposals but "assuredly expect improvements."

Lewis also said the miners "will expect guarantees incident to the honoring of the current agreement in the matter of its welfare provisions."

The welfare fund, now being raised by collections of 10 cents a ton, brought another legal move by Lewis today.

During the lull in negotiations Lewis' attorneys went to Federal court and filed an answer to the petition of operator Ezra Van Horn for an injunction. Van Horn seeks to block any payments from the $50,000,000 welfare fund under a pension system compromise which ended the recent strike. The plan was approved by Lewis and the third trustee, Senator Bridges (R-NH), over objections from Van Horn as operator trustee.

Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough will hear arguments on Van Horn's petition Saturday, June 19.

In his answer, Lewis furnished to the court copies of the minutes of meetings of the trustees at which unsuccessful efforts were made to set up a pension plan.

Congress May Scrap June 19 As Adjournment Date; Bills Pile Up

WASHINGTON, June 8 (AP)—Congress may have to scrap its June 19 adjournment goal and come back later, Senate GOP leaders said today. Faced by a jam-packed work schedule, the Senate Republican policy committee said it looks like the lawmakers may not get through before the GOP convention starting June 21.

They'll talk it over with the House about returning.

The committee picked out four bills for first Senate action. All Republican Senators will get together Thursday morning to talk about the program.

Chairman Taft (R-Ohio) listed the four bills for action in this order:

1. The two-year draft measure, already on the Senate floor.
2. A resolution by Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) favoring regional defense pacts under the United Nations, opening the way to possible U. S. aid for a Western European defense alliance.
3. Extension of the reciprocal trade agreements act, passed on a one-year restricted basis by the House and approved by the Senate finance committee in less stringent form.
4. A long range farm program in place of price support legislation which ends this year.

Taft also listed a number of measures for which he said the committee drew no schedule but which it would like to see the Senate act on. These included:

A civil rights bill (an anti-lynching measure has been discussed), a Federal workers pay raise and extension of terms of the Atomic Energy commissioners by two years.

150. Dewey went to Baltimore yesterday for three days of delegatelooping in Maryland, Virginia and North Carolina.

Reds Threaten New Measures Against Allies

BERLIN, June 8 (AP)—The threat of new Russian restrictive measures against the western powers hung over Berlin today.

The latest tense feeling in the German capital stemmed from an old dispute about Russian occupation of a Berlin radio station which is in the British occupation sector.

After negotiating with the Soviet military administration over the station for the past two years, the British asked the Russians to "accelerate their vacation of the premises."

The Soviet news responded quickly with the statement that "since the communication lines of Berlin with the western zones run through the Soviet occupation zone, counter-measures are likely."

Maj. Gen. V. J. E. Westropp, British deputy chief of staff, said in his letter to the Russians that "ample time has now been given the Soviets to allow them to prepare alternative facilities to the Funkhaus (radio station) outside the British sector."

THE BRITISH OFFICER said a bunker in the station grounds was scheduled for demolition. He asked the Russians to set a date for turning over the bunker for destruction.

The Russians charged in an official statement that the British are trying "to disturb normal radio activities in Berlin, particularly in the Soviet occupation zone."

The station in question is the most powerful in Berlin and is an important part of the Russian propaganda network.

WOLCOTT CALLS HOUSING BILL 'SOCIALISTIC'

House Members Offer Substitute Proposal; Committee to Vote

WASHINGTON, June 8 (AP)—A House Republican leader today called Senator Taft's (R-Ohio) housing bill "socialistic" and offered a substitute.

The House member, Chairman Wolcott (R-Mich.), aimed his criticism at the public housing feature of the measure sponsored by Taft.

Wolcott moved to strike out provisions for (1) Federal financing of 500,000 low-rent homes to be owned by public housing agencies in various communities and (2) Federal subsidies for a huge slum clearance program.

They are controversial features of the Taft-ellender-Wagner housing act designed to encourage the construction of 15,000,000 residences in ten years.

The House banking committee is expected to act on Wolcott's substitute Thursday or Friday. The plan is to put it before the House early next week.

Wolcott pinned the "socialistic" label on the public housing feature of Taft's bill in talking with reporters.

"Of course, I don't think Senator Taft is a Socialist," he said in answer to questions.

"But this bill passed by the Senate, with its public housing feature, is a key by which the House of Socialism may be opened."

Wolcott's measure also omits provisions of the Senate measure for aid to farmers for home construction and a program of housing research.

Czech Constitution Becomes Valid Today

PRAGUE, June 8 (AP)—The Czech government announced tonight that the new national constitution becomes valid tomorrow.

The announcement did not state what executive signature had validated the constitution adopted by parliament.

President Eduard Benes resigned Monday rather than sign the Communist-drafted document. It was presumed that Premier Klement Gottwald, empowered by the cabinet, had signed it.

'How Can I Get Him Back?'

A GIRL of 19, who signs herself "Baffled" asks me a question that appears in so many of the letters I receive from teen-agers that this column is an answer to all of them.

This girl says that she had been seeing a good deal of a certain chap who seemed to enjoy her company as much as she enjoyed his. Because, after going with her for some weeks, he gave her his club pin, she felt she had good ground for believing she really meant something to him.

To her surprise, however, the dates and the phone calls suddenly stopped. There was silence, without any explanation.

"Foolish as I was," she writes, "I stayed in an effort to hear from him. After four days of waiting I went out howling with my girl friends and there I met him. He spoke to me very casually about things in general and it was then I knew our friendship was over."

"The next day I spoke to him, and he told me he had thought things were getting too serious and he had to stop it. To that I had no answer, so we said good-bye on a friendly basis."

"Please tell me how I can get him back, if possible, for I don't see how a person's mind could change so fast. I also would like to know what you think I should do with his pin, give it back or keep it."

IN A SITUATION of this kind it is a smart girl who is willing to realize that there is no program that can be recommended for "getting back" a friend whose ardor has cooled. It is completely futile for anyone to try and map out a campaign of strategy to stir up interest where it has been lost. It is not necessarily impossible, of course, for a young man to find out that the girl he left is the one he really wanted, and to try to get her to take him back. But it is only when he has the wish to return himself that there is any hope of a reunion. It cannot be brought about by strategic planning on the girl's part.

It just happens, however, that if a girl is wise enough to accept the situation, and go about her other business, that course sometimes turns out to be a successful one in reviving the ex-boy friend's interest. What she cannot do by conscious trying, sometimes happens very unexpectedly when she is content to leave it alone. Many girls seem to think that to show their departed boy friends that they are devastated by their loss will soften their hearts and bring them back. Actually,

however, the reverse of this is true, for no man wants a girl so clinging and spineless that her only happiness is to hang around his neck.

On the other hand, if she shows that she has other interests, and can adjust her life very well without him if she has to, he may come to the conclusion that she is more worthwhile than he had thought. And even if he doesn't she will have done herself a good turn by adopting this course, for it is almost certain in the end to bring her a new heart interest.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

By SHEPARD BARCLAY

Simple Plays Satisfy
IT IS NOT always the gaudy and elaborate squeeze, coup or throw-in that gives the player his greatest joy. More often, real satisfaction comes from the sound handling of a simple problem which can be fumbled if clear thought is lacking. The keen declarer is particularly anxious to bring his contract home if he realizes he has found his way into a declaration at which success is more difficult than in the contract that most pairs in a duplicate game will reach. Then he feels he must make good for his partner.

"This was to me one of the most satisfying hands I ever played," reports M. G. Murray, who was partnered with W. C. White, vice president of the St. Petersburg Bridge League, in the individual championship of that sunny Florida city. "Small slam at No Trumps is of course easy by just giving up the queen of hearts at once. But the

Boards to Consider Transfer of Students

The Warwick school board will hold a special meeting with the board of West Nantmeal township tomorrow night to consider a possible migration of West Nantmeal's Seventh and Eighth grades to Warwick next fall.

The meeting was announced at a Warwick board meeting Monday night.

Crowding at West Nantmeal was stressed as the reason for the proposal rather than the school consolidation plan recently discussed among six northern Chester county school districts and turned down in Warwick among others.

The board accepted the resignation of Louis Pernik, history teacher and baseball coach. A replacement has not been selected.

All members of the board except W. Frank Noble, who is sick were present. J. D. Chrisman, president, was in charge.

Improvements Completion Near, Firemen Are Told

Improvements in the apparatus room of the West End Fire company, as planned and completed on June 20, 50 members were told at a meeting Monday night.

The hall four has been lowered as a reference to allow for three large engines and two small ones. A partition has been removed and new floor is laid. There will be a dedication and housing ceremony upon completion.

Clyde W. Ludwig, president, said that some time in the future, the company plans to add an ambulance to the company's three pieces of apparatus.

Pottstown Quoit Club To Buy Shuffle Board

The Pottstown Quoit club will buy a $500 full-length shuffle board for the club next week. 75 members were told Monday night at a meeting. The board will be installed in the building.

The group voted a $100 donation to the Salvation Army. Charles Goheen, vice president, was in charge of the session in the absence of President Theodore Kepner.

Beds usually burrow during the day and feed principally at night.

Ellen Butterweck Becomes Bride at Church Ceremony

Ellen Butterweck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Butterweck, 318 East Fourth street, Boyertown, became the bride of Edward Stinnard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Stinnard, Honesdale, in a double ring ceremony performed the past Saturday at 2 p. m. in Church of the Good Shepherd, Evangelical and Reformed, by the Rev. Harper L. Schneek, pastor.

The bride wore a dress of white satin with an illusion neckline and lace ruffles trimmed in sequins. The full skirt ended in a train. A fingertip-length veil with scalloped lace edges was held in place by a crown of seed pearls with a jeweled heart in the center.

She carried a bouquet of white carnations, baby breath and rose buds, topped with an orchid. For "something old" the bride chose a lavalere with a pearl center and earrings to match.

MRS. CEDRIC REITNAUER, a sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a dress of blue green taffeta with sweetheart neckline and full skirt. She wore a crown of yellow carnations to match a bouquet which she carried. Bridesmaids were Mrs. James Yoder and Miss Phyllis Levensong, both of whom wore yellow taffeta dresses with a crown of pink carnations to match bouquets. Floyd Stinnard, a brother of the groom, was best man.

Cedric Reitnauer and Andrew Curtis Jr. were ushers, while Mrs. M. Fisher was organist. Robert Spayd sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly." The altar was decorated with salmon-colored gladioli.

Mrs. Stinnard is a graduate of Boyertown High school, class of 1946, and is employed at Marl-Tex Hosiery Mill, Inc., Franklin street, Boyertown. The groom, employed at Beckerman Shoe corporation, Boyertown, served with the United States Medical corps for three years.

Following a reception in the IOOF hall, 35 East Philadelphia avenue, the couple left for a wedding trip to Atlantic City, N. J.

Council Appoints Howard Schaeffer Special Patrolman

Howard Schaeffer, 519 East Fourth street, has been employed as a special patrolman to supplement the force because of the inability of William H. S. Moyer to perform his duties since he was struck by an automobile at the intersection of East Philadelphia avenue and Washington street the past April 17.

Schaeffer's appointment grew out of a special meeting of the borough council which came to public light for the first time as the minutes were read by Secretary Ray E. Schoffstall at the regular meeting the past Monday night. The special meeting was held the past month, according to the minutes.

Regular patrolmen were working extra shifts to cover the time allotted to Moyer, the injured patrolman, and they had asked that they be compensated for this overtime. Council decided instead to employ the additional special patrolman.

A LONG DISCUSSION on whether or not "no parking" signs should be stenciled on the streets when such signs appeared on posts took place at the meeting. Robert Stauffer, chairman of the police committee, maintained that such painting should be done while Borough Manager Ray E. Schoffstall disagreed.

Schoffstall maintained that anyone who couldn't read the sign on the official eight-foot high standard certainly couldn't if it was painted on the street. To complicate the picture further, there was disagreement as to where the stencil was for street painting. The matter was dropped with no action taken.

Earl Gromes, local electrician, presented a bill for $109.80, for the spotlight and its installation on the Meist building at East Philadelphia avenue and Washington streets.

JAMES A. FRITZ, the burgess, reported he had conducted a traffic survey at the intersection of Washington street and East Philadelphia avenue, and discovered that on a Saturday night 65 automobiles make left turns off Philadelphia avenue on to Washington street per hour in peak periods. It was estimated that such turns shut off the street from through traffic 20 percent of the time.

Council had suggested abolition of left turns at the intersection but no action was taken. It was generally agreed that such a regulation would simply result in throwing such left turns to other streets, notably Chestnut street, which already is overcrowded.

Howard S. Schanely, tax collector, was exonerated from uncollected taxes for 1947 and appointed delinquent tax collector by the council.

Interest amounting to $540 on $48,000 sewer assessment bonds due June 15 was ordered paid.

Rotary Presents Service Keys to Two Graduates

Rotary service keys were presented to two Boyertown High school graduates of the class of 1948 at the club's meeting held recently in Boyer Towne Inn, as the Rev. John B. Frantz, of Pottstown, spoke on "Service Above Self."

The honored students were Wanda G. Gresh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Augustus D. Gresh, 26 College street, and Jack Schenely, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Schenely, 216 North Reading avenue. The students and their parents were introduced by Lawrence E. Grim, high school principal, and keys were awarded by George Swinehart, supervising principal. Both Grim and Swinehart are local Rotarians.

Miss Gresh and Schenely were chosen on the basis of character, school citizenship, scholastic achievement and contribution to school life.

THE REV. FRANZ listed four steps necessary for noble living. First, he said, it is necessary to keep alive a sense of debt to those who have helped in one's success. He pointed out local persons who helped him, since he was a resident of Boyertown from 12 to 16 years of age.

Second, the speaker urged a high quality of craftsmanship and work. "Put a sense of quality in your work," he admonished. Further, he said responsible community living will contribute to the noble life. He urged those present to share in the leadership of the community.

Finally, the Rev. Frantz said that noble living requires a conscience that is clear and can distinguish between reputation and character.

New Yorkers, Redbirds Win Softball Tilts

The Pottstown Redbirds continued to set the pace in the Pottstown City-Industrial softball league as they swept their fifth consecutive victory last night by conquering St. John's Falcons, 6-0, on The Hill far fields.

The Redbirds were held to nine base hits by Gene Feak, but the league leaders made them pay off in runs. The Redbirds scored twice in the first inning and then added single markers in the fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh frames.

Howard Roen went the distance for the Redbirds, shutting out the Falcons with six hits, all singles.

IN ANOTHER league game played last night, the New York store rallied for four runs in the fifth inning and three more in the sixth to defeat Carlini AC, 8-5, at South Pottstown.

Carlini AC built up a comfortable lead with five runs in the first three innings, but Andy Billo settled down and pitched scoreless ball the remainder of the way to gain the victory.

The New York store scored first in the first inning but were held scoreless until the fifth inning by Jim Hawk.

Billo was touched for nine base hits, most of them coming in the first three innings when Carlini AC scored all its runs. The New York store, showing surprise strength in its first year of softball in Pottstown, blasted Hawk for 11 safeties.

Gil Rothrock (left) shakes hands over the net and congratulates Dick Squires after Squires defeated the New Cumberland youth in straight sets for the Middle States interscholastic singles tennis crown on The Hill's chapel courts Monday.

Squires, Rothrock Win Doubles Title In Tennis Tourney

Singles champion Dick Squires and singles runnerup Gil Rothrock combined their tennis talents yesterday afternoon to defeat two teammates in the all-Hill finals of the Middle States Interscholastic Juniors' tennis championships on The Hill's Chapel courts.

Squires and Rothrock, No. 1 and 2 seeded players on The Hill tennis squad, did it the hard way yesterday by coming from behind to beat teammates Jimmy Baker and Roger Young, 4-6, 6-3, 6-2, 7-5.

Baker and Young held the upper hand through the first set, getting off to a good start and driving back a Squires-Rothrock rally.

SQUIRES and Rothrock went to work in the second set and had little trouble in defeating their less-experienced foes. Baker and Young tumbled in the final two sets but managed to carry the fourth set to 7-5.

Squires received two trophies, one for the singles title and one for the doubles title, from tournament referee Joseph L. Oser. Rothrock also received a trophy for the double title.

Rothrock and Squires made up one of The Hill's double teams during the regular tennis season, while Baker and Young teamed to compose another doubles team for the local prep school.

Phils Send Scout Here to Sign Pottstown High Star to Contract

Johnny Snyder, Pottstown High's star catcher and power hitter for the past two years, may soon be wearing a Philadelphia Phillies uniform.

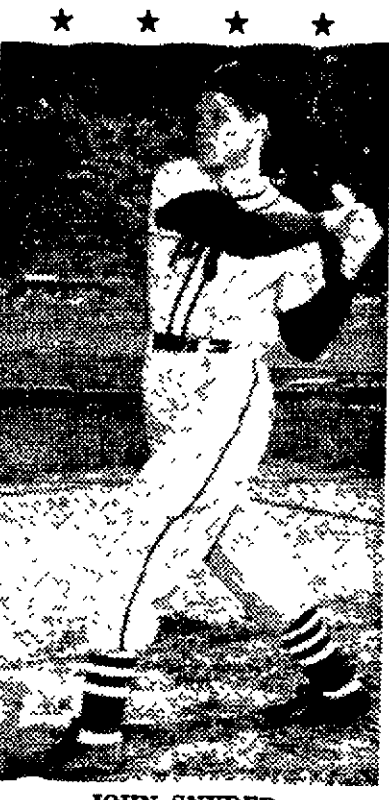

This was learned yesterday when the Phillies sent Cy Morgan, one of their many scouts here in an attempt to bring Snyder into their fold. Morgan, however, was unsuccessful in getting Snyder's signature on a contract because of a high school ruling, but he said the Phillies will keep on trying until they do sign the big Pottstown athlete to a contract.

Because baseball rules state that a club cannot sign a player until graduated from high school, the Phillies were not able to bring Snyder into their fold yesterday. Snyder, 18 years old, is a member of the 1948 graduating class but will not receive a diploma.

Morgan said the Phillies will try to get a special ruling from Baseball Commissioner A. B. "Happy" Chandler that will allow them to get Snyder.

THE PHILLIES have been watching the big catcher since he came to Pottstown High from Girard college in 1946. He gained a spot on the Trojan team and proved to be the heaviest hitter on the squad. After his first year at Pottstown High, Snyder went on to catch for the George A. Amole Post 47, American Legion Junior baseball team during the Summer.

Early this Spring, Snyder was back on Franklin Field smacking the ball for Pottstown High. He captained the team from behind the plate and led the Tro-

A sudden downpour of rain at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon flooded three baseball fields here yesterday afternoon, forcing officials of local leagues to postpone three scheduled games.

All three games will be re-played later this month.

OPTIMISTS HEAR KARVER DISCUSS OLYMPIC GAMES

Penn State Star Also Speaks to High School Athletes at Banquet

Gerald Karver, track star and recent graduate of Pennsylvania State college, last night discussed the forthcoming Olympics before 30 members of the Pottstown Optimist club and their guests, members of the Pottstown Senior High school track and swimming teams.

The Boyertown runner said that he would compete in the Olympic tryouts in Chicago next month.

He devoted much of his talk to reviewing the history of the Olympic games, and telling of the difficulties of qualifying for a berth on an Olympic team.

THE CLUB AWARDED a trophy to Miss Mary Drumheller, Pottstown High school swimming and diving champion.

D. R. Perkins, who was in charge of last night's program, presented the trophy to Miss Drumheller.

Team members attending the meeting in the Elks home included Russell Fries Jr., Nicholas Dininni Jr., Carroll Seavers, Leon Madocka, Harold Begel, Paul Newswander, Thomas Allen, James McDevitt and Teddy Dallas Jr. of the track team.

Also swimming team members George Marquette and several runners who also are on the swimming team. They were Begel, Neuschwander, Allen, McDevitt and Dallas.

Coaches Heber T. Meyers of the track team and Clarence C. Yocom of the swimming team, also were guests of the Optimists.

Whitley Hagan Quits As Athletic Director At Pitt University

PITTSBURGH, June 8 (AP)—Pitt, whose football path has been rocky since hoisting of the amateur standard a decade ago, reached a crossroads today with the resignation of Athletic Director James (Whitley) Hagan.

The university's trustees, divided for months over whether to fire Hagan or football coach Walter "Mike" Milligan, announced with regret Hagan's resignation, dated June 1.

Frank Carver, Pitt's sports publicity director, was named acting director of athletics until a permanent selection is made.

The football kettle began to boil the past Fall—when the gridgers chafed up their worst record in Pitt history. They won but one out of nine games. One had drubbing was 69-0 at the hands of mighty Michigan.

Some Alumni blamed Pitt's lopsided schedule on Hagan, who in an effort to win Pitt membership in the Big Nine was accused of booking too many games with powerful Midwestern eleven.

He was a leader in Pitt's adoption of a strictly "play-for-fun" code in 1938, deemphasizing football in the campaign to woo a Big Nine bid.

Flock Scores Early to Beat Cincinnati Foe by 6-5 Count

CINCINNATI, June 8 (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers scored six runs in the first two innings today but needed some nifty relief pitching by Willard Ramsdell to whip the Cincinnati Reds, 6-5.

Ralph Branca started for the Dodgers but blew up in third and yielded five runs. Ramsdell took over in the third and stopped the Reds' tide with a series of singles, giving up only two singles. The victory was the knuckleball artist's first of the season.

The Dodgers jumped on starter Ken Raffensberger for four runs in the first inning on four singles, a walk and a double.

BROOKLYN scored its winning runs off long Tom Hughes in the second on a walk and singles by Pee Wee Reese and Gil Hodges.

Branca was touched for two hits in both the first and second innings but he got out of both frames without yielding a run.

In the third, Branca walked the first two batters. Augie Galan then belted a homer, Ray Lamanno doubled pinch-hitter Frankie Baumholtz tripled and Johnny Wyrostek singled. After Wyrostek's hit, Ramsdell took over and picked Wyrostek off first to end the inning.

After the second inning, the Dodgers also had difficulty getting

SANATOGA TOPS EAST END, 7-4, IN LEAGUE TILT

Take Over 1st Place in Suburban Loop; Neiffer, Obelisk, Graterford Win

Sanatoga rode into first place in the Pottstown Suburban League on Joe Ruvak's arm last night as the big righthander scattered six East End hits in pitching his teammates to a 7-4 triumph at Sanatoga.

The victory was Ruvak's fourth in succession and was Sanatoga's fifth win in six outings. Sanatoga dropped its second game of the year before Ruvak joined the team and then won four in a row.

Sanatoga got off to a good start, scoring four runs in the first two innings, but East End tied it at 4-4 in the third.

Joe Wismer singled home two runs in the seventh and then scored himself to give Sanatoga its three-run winning margin.

In other league games played last night, Obelisk came from behind to score four times in the second inning and three times in the fifth to gain a 7-5 victory over Royersford; Graterford blanked Ringing Hill, 5-0, at Graterford, and Neiffer bested Swamp by a 7-1 count.

Who Can Fix It? Fix Your Eyes on Classification 18—"We Can Do It"

Late News Photos of Events of the World

Albert LaPointe, 56-year-old inventor, sits in his two-wheel car on the lawn of his home in West Hartford, Conn. The unique vehicle has a 25 horsepower motor in the rear. There are two standard size auto wheels and, in addition, two small side-wheels. LaPointe says the side-wheels lift two inches off the ground when car reaches six mile speed.

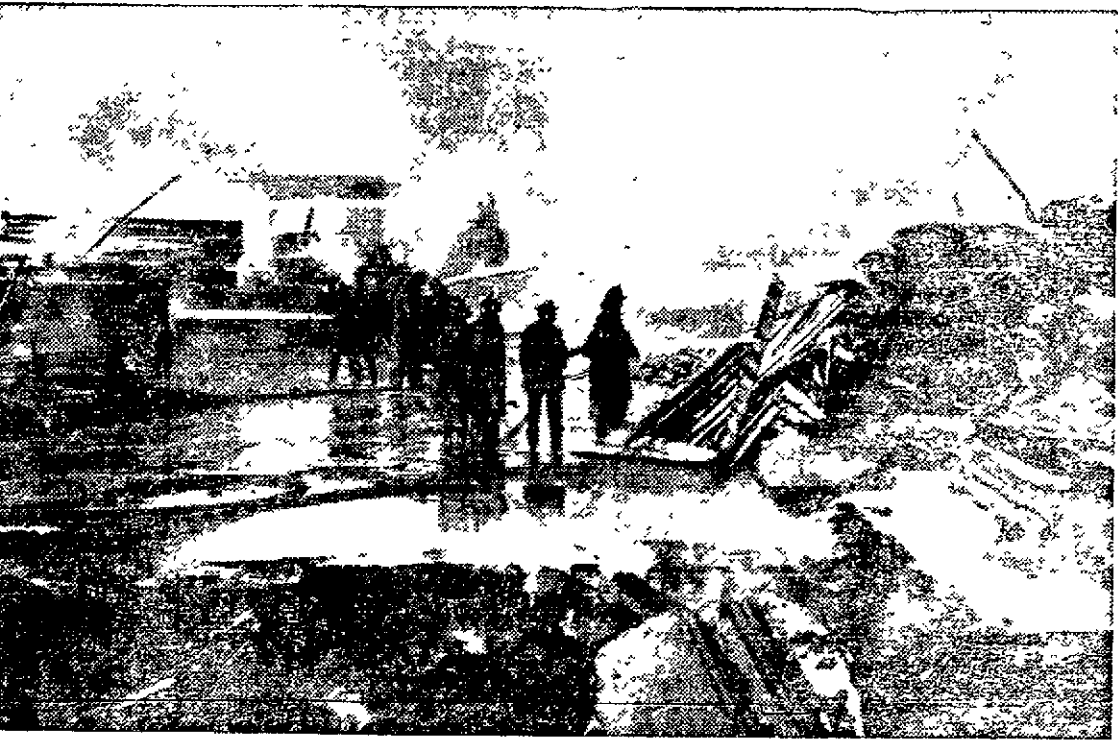

Photographed as it appeared over Cleveland, this is believed to be the first picture taken of the newly-discovered "Honda's Comet." It was named for the Japanese astronomer who first noticed it. The photo, showing the comet's luminous tail, was taken by Dr. J. J. Nassau, director of the observatory at Ohio's Case University of Technology. He said the heavenly body was visible to the naked eye.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower waves from steps of the low Memorial Library as he heads for his office and first day as president of Columbia university in New York. The statue of "Alma Mater" is in the background.

Badly disfigured in a fire in which her mother lost her life, Ethel Mary Reid, 8, of Boston, plays with a doll and doll house at Deaconess hospital, where she is undergoing plastic surgery. Helping her "play house" are Nurse Lucinda Fairbanks and Fireman William Henessey. The latter was instrumental in getting a fund set up by prominent businessmen to pay hospital expenses for the girl who was known as the "prettiest kid on the block."

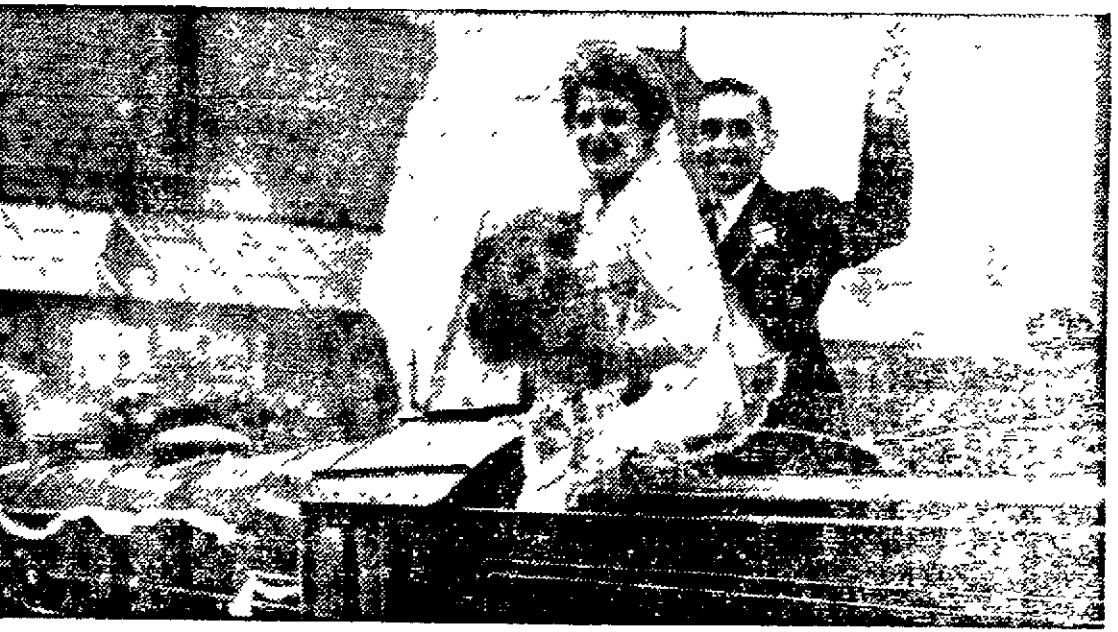

Firemen try to subdue the fire in a Queens, N. Y., lumber yard. Thirty-nine firemen were hurt and three buildings were destroyed in the fire-alarm $500,000 blaze. It took 18 engine companies, several hook and ladders and auxiliary equipment to bring the smoky, stubborn blaze under control.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower waves from steps of the low Memorial Library as he heads for his office and first day as president of Columbia university in New York. The statue of "Alma Mater" is in the background.

An elephant shrew flown from Africa Sudan to help fight malaria gets chin rubbed on arrival in Washington. Tiny animal is used for testing anti-malaria drugs.

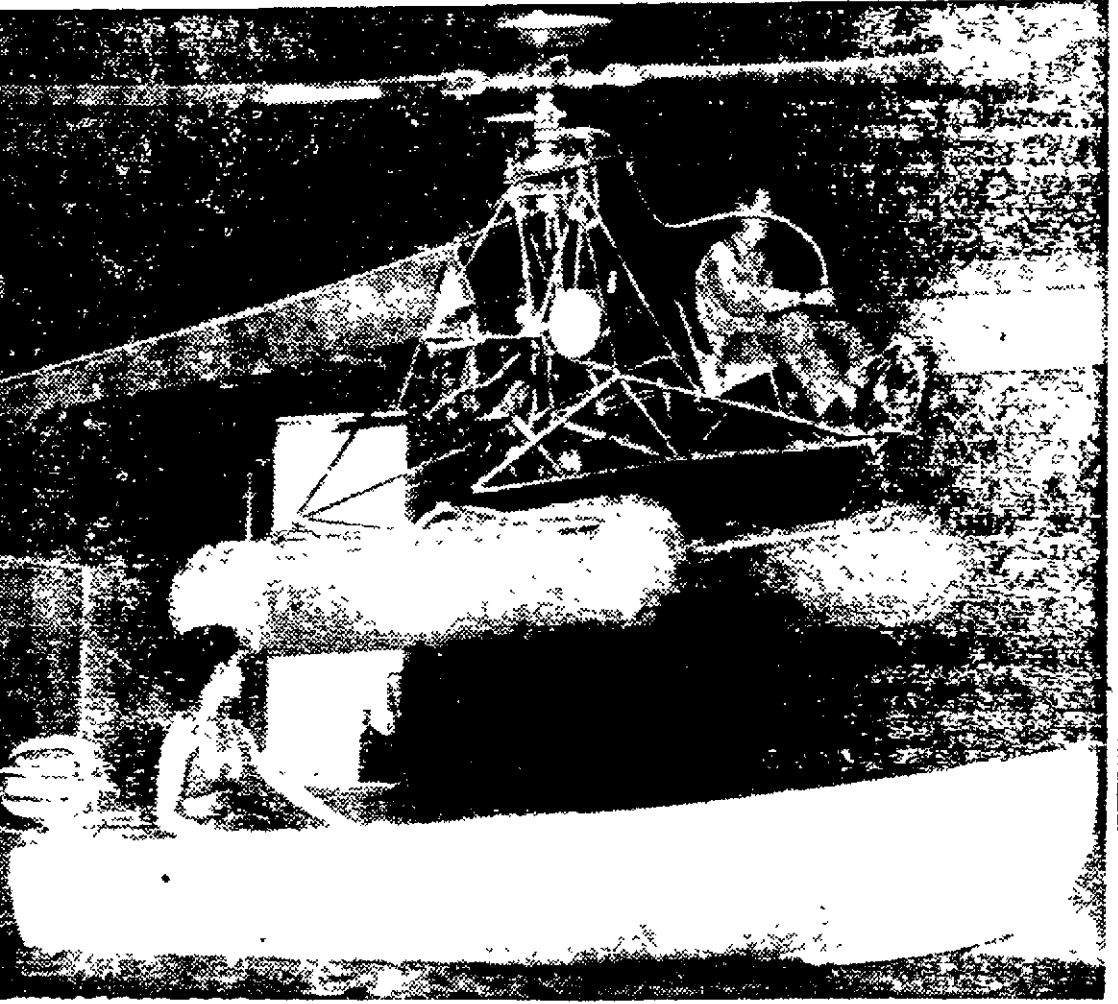

Charles Broad and his bride stand in engine of special "bridal train" which brought the former Doreen Moore from her Kent home to Romney, Eng., church. Later, the couple entrained on the special for reception in Dungeness.

British Screen Actress Deborah Kerr gives her four-month-old daughter, Melaine Jane, her first glimpse of England on arriving at Southampton. Miss Kerr has been in Hollywood for more than a year.

Mama Robin looks away from her hungry youngsters in Bloomington, Ill., apple tree nest.

A helicopter is flown by Jay Demming within a completely enclosed area in the San Francisco Civic Auditorium. Rising from the floor of the auditorium it then was successfully landed in a huge casting pool set up as a special attraction of the Travel and Boat show held in San Francisco.

Here's something to crow about! And the Rhode Island Red shown in the picture seems to realize that she has produced a young omelet. The mammoth egg weighs a half-pound, measures 10 1/2 inches one way and 8 1/2 inches the other. Holding it is Nancy Anne Day, McKeesport, Pa., whose granddaddy, C. M. Dirking, owns the fowl.

Two Persons Nabbed In Raids Receive Sentences in Court

By Staff Correspondent
NORRISTOWN, June 8 — Two more of the eight Pottstown residents arrested during a raid April 23 on charges of selling liquor without licenses pleaded guilty in court today.
E. M. Diggs, proprietor of the Elite Social club, 732 Beech street, was sentenced to serve six months in the County prison by Judge William F. Dannehower, and ordered to pay a $300 fine.
Mrs. Virginia Flynn, of 29 Cottage row, was fined $200 for the violation of the State Beverage License law.
The difference in sentence was based on the fact that this was not the first time Diggs was charged with the violation.
The only witnesses testifying were Negro agents of the State Liquor Control board. On several occasions during the preceding months, the agents testified, they had purchased beer or liquor at the establishments.
The April 23 raids were conducted by the agents, Pottstown police patrolmen, Burgess William A. Griffith and Chief of Police James A. Laughead.

Clay Products Plant Described to Kiwanis

R. C. Haury, resident manager of the Pottstown plant, Robinson Clay Products company, last night described the local works as "the most modern in the world."
He spoke before a meeting of the Pottstown Kiwanis club in the Elks' home.
Haury said that the Pottstown plant, employing 100 men, gets 90 percent of its materials from the Pottstown area.
He invited the Kiwanians to visit the plant at any time, telling them that inspection facilities would be available.
The resident manager also showed motion pictures of the plant in operation.
Fifty members attended last night's meeting. Vice President Harry W. Burdett was in charge of the meeting while William Shiner, chairman of the History committee, was program chairman.

Boyertownians were treated to a poignant scene of yesterday when a gas-electric unit of the Reading company passed through the borough at 5:12 p. m. yesterday on its regular bridge inspection tour of the Colebrookdale branch.
